A BUSY DAY — Jolly old Mr. Claus was extremely active Thursday as he visited the First Baptist Church Kiddy Care Day Care Center, photo at left, and then proceeded on to the Fayette Progressive School classrooms, right, where he passed out cookies, punch, and personal gifts to each student. Each of the 40 day care children received a chance to sit on Santa's lap and receive a gift bag of fruit and candy. Santa's services at the Progressive School were provided by the Zeta Child Conservation League. Though strenuous in nature, Santa's excursions did not seem to diminish his happy countenance and ample girth.

CIC acquires 12.5-acre tract of land for additional industrial development

A 12.5-acre tract of land located in the Washington C.H. Industrial Park has been purchased by the Community Improvement Corporation.

The CIC "went out of business" earlier this year when the Calmar Division of Diamond International Corp. purchased the last parcel of land owned by the Community Improvement Corp. Initiated in 1964, the non-profit community group had purchased and resold land for industrial development. In the 11-year history, the corporation assisted in the development of some 137 acres of land.

The current purchase puts the CIC back in the community development business. It will begin seeking commercial or industrial firms who may be interested in relocating in the industrial park of Washington, C.H.

The tract is situated on Old Chillicothe Road between Landmark Boulevard and Kenskill Avenue. The 10-acre area nearest to Kenskill Avenue is already owned by Sugar Creek Packing Co., and the new land is adjacent to the packing firm property.

Commonly referred to as the "old Wickes property," the land was purchased more than a year ago by Jess Gilmore, Ohio 41-N, a Fayette County developer. The CIC purchased the land from Gilmore, and will resell to an industrial firm as soon as possible.

George Winkle, president of the CIC, said the action was taken to facilitate sale to an industrial firm of some kind. He feels it has a prime location in the park. In addition to being accessible from Old Chillicothe Road, the land has city utilities readily available. Winkle said no improvement of the property is anticipated prior to sale.

If the lot is not sold in one parcel, some extension of utilities might be contemplated, however, Winkle added.

The CIC originally purchased a 95-acre tract for development as the Washington C.H. Industrial Park. During its 11-year history, 42 additional acres were purchased, and all 137 were sold to industrial concerns. At present 10 firms are located on land once owned by the CIC.

The lower courts held that the bills were improperly enacted and could not become law.

The Supreme Court's decision means only that the court will hear the appeal.

A final decision on the merits of the case will not be made until both written and oral arguments are considered by the court.

In their appeal, the Democrats contend that the state constitutional questions involved are more important than any of the six bills.

The Democrats contend that the lower court decisions would allow the lieutenant governor an absolute veto power over bills with no chance to override.

They also contend that the legislature must have the right to establish and enforce its own procedural rules, a right the Democrats maintain is jeopardized by the lower court decisions.

The case involved a massive power struggle between the Democrats, who planned to use a quirk in the state constitution to bolster their power, and Republicans, who were determined to stop them.

Democrats already controlled the House at the start of the year, and the Senate would be theirs when lawmakers elected in November 1974 took their seats.

The flaw was in the governor's office, where Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan was about to be replaced by Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes, a Republican.

But under Ohio's constitution, the legislature is seated a week before the governor. That meant that for one week, Democrats would have absolute control of the statehouse. That week became the "Six Day War."

On the first day, three bills were introduced in each house. One would redraw congressional district lines to favor Democratic candidates. Others would take jobs and powers from Republican officeholders and give them to Democrats.

While Republicans took procedural shots from the sidelines, the Democrats methodically passed the bills. They allowed each bill 2½ days of consideration in each house, including amendments, debate and voting. All passed in the allotted time.

Republicans were powerless to stop the votes. But the final shot belonged to the GOP in Republican Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, who also held the largely ceremonial post of president of the Senate.

The lieutenant governor's signature

Said Mrs. Marusz: "He had been planning for retirement at 62, but he didn't make it."

Her mother died Dec. 9, 1974, after six years in a nursing home, she said.

The $30,000 prize went to Julia F. Schmied of Cleveland. Other Buckeye 1,000 winners included Jobe D. Green, Masury, $20,000, and James R. McNutt, Cincinnati, $15,000.

James O. Donovan of Springfield won $10,000; Jimmy Johnson, Richmond Dale, Ross County, $7,500; James Ganni, Willard, $5,000; Robert M. Virtue, Bucyrus, $4,000; Jane C. Bushong, St. Mary's, $3,000; Helen M. Perencic, Cleveland, $2,000, and Clinton Alexander, Lafferty, $1,000.

In the Lucky Buck jackpot game, Raymond E. Warrick of Toledo, won $25,000. Other jackpot winners included three $10,000 winners: Paul J. Olzeski of Cleveland; Charles E. Davis, Marion, and Ralph D. Heath, Cuyahoga Falls.

There were five $5,000 winners: John Summers, Canton; Natalie E. Brenot, Toledo; Edward W. Dilliard, Springfield; Angel C. Balcarcel, Canton, and Stanley Cimerman, Euclid.

The weekly number drawing produced the following numbers in the Buckeye 1,000 game:

Super Santa numbers:

Sluggish Ohio growth rate pondered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's growth rate has been stymied while state government is often "ignorant of the economic consequences" of its actions, an Ohio State economist has told legislators.

"The economic intelligence and information resources of the Ohio General Assembly and also the executive branch of government are extremely meager," Prof. Wilford L. L'Esperance said Thursday.

The legislature's Joint Economic Conference continues today with testimony scheduled from several witnesses including Ohio Development Director James A. Duerk, representing the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The conference was proposed by Democratic legislative leaders last month after the crushing ballot defeat of Rhodes' $14.5 billion public works bond package. The governor has pledged his cooperation with the conferees.

L'Esperance said Ohio's economic growth had slowed because industry has continued to focus on traditional capital goods, such as metals and machinery.

"It is well known that more rapid economic growth has been and is now taking place in the southeast, southwest and far west than in Ohio," he said. "In those areas, the swiftly developing sectors are: oil, gas, leisure industries, defense, advanced technology, agribusiness and real estate."

After Michigan and Indiana, the economist said Ohio "is more sensitive to U.S. recession than any other state."

Current weaknesses in the state's economy portend "a rate of economic development, which is likely to trail the growth rate of the U.S. economy for the rest of this century. As a result we are likely to witness lower rates of population and employment in Ohio."

"Attracting the new growth industries, which are conspicuously missing, appears to be the number one challenge for the private sector."

As for the public sector, L'Esperance said the Ohio legislature needed to develop more expertise before it "can deal with policy issues affecting the Ohio economy." That is one of the purposes of the conference.

Another OSU economist agreed that the state's traditional strengths were not "where the action is today."

"By far the most significant fact," said Prof. Paul G. Craig, "is that structural shift in the makeup of the re-judged to select the winners in each category.

The plaque for the grand champion residence was donated by Jack Warner, proprietor of Warner's Sports Shop in Washington C.H. The Jaycees provided plaques for the other winners.

national economy has favored other regions, mainly the southern rim—the sunbelt."

In addition to favorable climate, he said southeastern and western states are winning out because of their "superior political clout" in Washington and their geographic appeal to the booming leisure industry.

"We cannot change the climate of our region but we can enhance its recreational amenities," he said. "In considering the allocation of state budget resources we would be wise to give strong consideration to the quality of our physical environment ..."

J. David Reed, associate professor of economics at Bowling Green State University, said Ohio industry "had not managed to diversify into sectors which are exhibiting major growth in employment nationwide."

"The state is showing increased specialization in manufacturing while nationally this sector is accounting for a declining portion of national employment," he added.

Reed said state government would be well-served by a "comprehensive state economic information system."

Rep. Arthur Wilkowski, D-46 Toledo, said Thursday's witnesses had pointed out what he hoped the conference would establish "that Ohio is going downhill." Wilkowski and Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, are co-chairmen of the conference.

Another conferee, Asst. Minority Leader Norman R. Murdock, R-21 Cincinnati, suggested the sessions had political implications, coming in the wake of the Rhodes bond defeat and general economic uncertainty. "They're (majority Democrats) trying to cover their flanks," he said.

West Virginia's governor indicted

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — State Republican leaders are standing solidly behind Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr., although some have expressed doubts about the effects the indictment will have on his political future.

Moore — accused by a federal grand jury of extortion — said he would plead innocent to the charge in U.S. District Court today.

He and his former aide, Martinsburg lawyer William Loy, were accused of extorting $25,000 from Theodore Price, president of the Diversified Mountaineer Corp. The indictment said the money was to enable DMC to get a state banking charter, which it never received.

"My feeling is he should remain in office and I assume, believe, he is innocent until proven otherwise by a fair trial," said state Senate Minority Leader Roy Rogerson of Marshall County.

Moore said at a news conference Thursday that he intended to do just that. In fact, he announced his intention to run for a third term in office.

State Republican Chairman Thomas Potter gave a "no comment," then added, "I want to digest this thing a little further before I say anything."

And Sen. Frank Deem, RPleasanton, cautioned that a man is presumed innocent until proven otherwise. "I'm

Stevens sworn in today as 101st U.S. justice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vowing to treat rich and poor alike, John Paul Stevens was sworn in today to the Supreme Court seat held for more than 36 years by Justice William O. Douglas.

President Ford stood at the counsel table and watched as the man he appointed to the high court took the judicial oath administered by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

Fifteen minutes earlier, in the privacy of the justices closed conference room, the 55-year-old jurist had sworn to uphold the Constitution.

Stevens, a judge of the 7th U.S. Circuit Court in Chicago since 1970, became the 101st justice in Supreme Court history.

Seated in a chair once used by the 19th century Chief Justice John Marshall, he listened as Michael Radk Jr., clerk of the court, read a commission signed by the President.

Then he stood and repeated after Burger:

"I John Paul Stevens do solemnly swear that I will administer justice without respect to persons, and do equal rights to the poor and to the rich, Monday."

New lottery game slated

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Lottery Commission will inaugurate the bicentennial year with a new "Spirit of '76" game which will have top prize offering of $100,000.

At its regular monthly meeting here Thursday, the commission approved the new $1 game which will replace the "Super Santa" contest.

The new game also will offer prizes of $20,000, $5,000, $500, $250 and $10. Tickets sales begin Jan. 5 and the first drawing will be Jan. 15.

Prizes are won by matching six, five and four-digit numbers and by matching numbers on liberty bells printed on the game card.

In other business, the commission unanimously re-elected David Leahy to a second 2-year term as commission chairman. Leahy, 55, is a retired Cleveland business and civic leader who was

Final action ready on railroad bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is ready to take final action on a bill that would pump new life into the nation's ailing railroad industry while creating a new railroad from the remains of seven bankrupt carriers.

The bill, could be headed for a presidential veto. The legislation passed by House-Senate conferees Thursday contains three provisions that the Ford administration says are unacceptable.

Conferees agreed Thursday to limit funding to $6.5 billion or about a half billion more than the administration wanted.

The conferees decided to allow the U.S. Railway Association, a government agency, to oversee the federal investment of $2.1 billion in ConRail, the quasi-government corporation that will run the seven bankrupt railroads. The administration wanted a special three-man banking committee consisting of the secretary of transsportation, the secretary of the treasury and the chairman of the Railway Association to oversee that investment.

The seven northeastern railroads to be included in ConRail are the Penn Central, Erie Lackawanna, Lehigh Valley, Lehigh and Hudson River, Central of New Jersey, Ann Arbor and the Reading.

The administration also is likely to object to the funding the compromise bill would make available for improving passenger service between Boston and Washington, D.C.

The administration sought a $1.2 billion authorization to bring that roadbed and equipment back to standards. The conferees, however, authorized $2.4 billion in interest free loans to build the nation's high-speed passenger line between the two cities.

The administration also is expected to object to a provision that would bar the government from collecting interest on its investment in ConRail until the new railroad has at least $500 million in cash on hand. The administration says the government should collect interest from the outset although it is willing to let ConRail delay cash payment until the new corporation is solvent.

The bill also authorizes $600 million in low interest loans, $200 million in grants and $800 million in guaranteed loans to help railroads in other parts of the nation upgrade their tracks and facilities.

It also authorizes a five-year program to subsidize freight operations over little used branch lines that are to be abandoned by ConRail and other railroads. The bill authorizes $400 million for that program.

The legislation also would make a substantial change in the way the federal government regulates railroads. It would give railroads complete freedom to raise and lower rates at their discretion on routes where they faced strong competition so long as the rates covered the actual cost of offering service.

As the market opened, New York's First National City Bank raised its prime lending rate from 7 to 7 1/4 per cent, bringing it into line with the rate at most other major banks. And the government reported that consumer prices rose at an 8.4 per cent annual rate for the second straight month in November, disappointing some who had been looking for a dropoff in the inflation rate.

For typical taxpayers with average personal deductions of 17 per cent of income, here is what the tax controversy means:

A single person making $17,500 a year would pay $3,145 on his 1976 income, compared with the $3,115 he will owe under the temporary 1975 tax cut.

A married couple with two children and a $17,500 income would pay $2,156 in taxes on 1976 income with no tax cut bill compared with the $2,063 it would owe under the 1975 tax cut.

After the vote in the House, each side blamed the other for the prospect of an election-year tax increase.

Their plan includes language saying "Congress shall provide for reductions in the level of spending which would otherwise occur by $1 for each $1 of tax reduction." But it also says the pledge would not preclude Congress from setting either a higher or lower spending ceiling in the normal budget process next year.

Stevens then was escorted to a seat at the left end of the bench, the spot reserved for the junior justice. Douglas sat there when he was named to the court in 1939. By the time he retired on Nov. 12, he was in the senior justice's spot at the right of the chief justice.

Ford, making his first nomination to the high court, chose Stevens on Dec. 1. He was confirmed 98 to 0 by the Senate on Wednesday.

On Thursday, the court announced the schedule of cases it will hear beginning Jan. 12, when Stevens will begin taking part in its regular sessions.

Among the cases is one which will be watched closely by women's rights advocates, involving whether a private employer may exclude pregnancy from disability insurance coverage.

The stalemate developed Thursday after the House failed by 17 votes to overturn President Ford's veto of a bill extending 1975 tax cuts into the first half of 1976.

The Republicans refuse to accept the tax-cut extension until the Democrats agree to a spending ceiling for fiscal 1977. The Democrats refuse to commit themselves to a specific dollar ceiling until the President submits his detailed spending plan for fiscal 1977, which doesn't begin until next October.

Congressional leaders canceled plans for today's year-end recess in order to remain ready to respond if any way of resolving the tax-and-spending question arises. The leaders said "pro forma" sessions would be held every three days.

If no resolution is reached, the federal government's withholding bite

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Louis A. Cabral has resigned as warden of the Lucas County jail effective Dec. 26.

Cabral had asked permission to make administrative changes at the jail but was refused by Sheriff Donald

T. Hickey.

Hickey acknowledged he had asked Cabral to resign if the warden did not think he could work under Hickey.

Cabral said he would be taking a job in law enforcement in Indiana.

NEW YORK (AP) — Early this month, with little fanfare, the longest running radio show under single sponsorship in the United States began its 36th season on the air — Texaco's Metropolitan Opera broadcasts.

The Saturday afternoon opera offerings — there are 20 each season — currently are carried by 159 commercial and 124 noncommercial stations, says Harold Hawkey, Texaco's supervisor for the programs.

He says with the exception of outlets in Honolulu, Puerto Rico and Alaska, which are sent tapes of the broadcasts, stations carrying the Met songfests are required by contract to air the show live.

"If they don't carry it live, it's an abrogation of the contract," says Hawkey, adding that each broadcast averages about three hours in length and usually starts at 2 p.m. EST on Saturdays.

Hawkey, who says the number of stations carrying the Met broadcasts hasn't varied much in the past 10 years, said Texaco has offered the broadcasts over its own Saturday network — put together by an outside packager, G.H. Johnston, Inc. — since 1950.

Prior to that, he said, Texaco sponsored the opera series on commercial radio networks, primarily NBC.

The first Met broadcast, a production of "Hansel and Gretel," aired on Christmas Day, 1931. It was presided over by Milton Cross, who announced all but two of the broadcasts until his death early this year at 77.

Hawkey said the broadcasts were sponsored by various companies until 1939, when Texaco began its single sponsorship of the opera series.

Although the company pays the Met for broadcast rights for each show, there've been no commercials during the shows in recent years, he said.

"We can't do that because we have all these noncommercial stations," he said, referring to the public radio stations which by law aren't allowed to broadcast commercials.

"So at the start of the show, we simply say, 'The Texaco Metropolitan Opera broadcast network brings you....' and that's it," Hawkey said.

Opinion And Comment

Graduate job outlook poor

The job prospects for next June's college graduates fall short of "home on the range" calibre. Discouraging words are frequently heard, and the skies are cloudy a good part of the day.

WASHINGTON CALLING... By Marquis Childs

The Supreme Court appointment

WASHINGTON — As against eight years in the presidency, a limit fixed by constitutional amendment, a justice of the Supreme Court serves for life. That is one reason, as the career of William O. Douglas demonstrated, a presidential appointment to the court can cast a longer shadow than almost any other presidential act.

The appointment is a test for a president as severe as any duty he must perform. One sure way of getting a passing grade is to name a justice certain to get by the confirmation hearings in the Senate judiciary committee and the vote on confirmation in the Senate with no trouble.

That was Harry Truman's approach to the sticky business of naming a man likely to outserve and outlive the temporary resident on Pennsylvania Avenue. Of the four justices he appointed, three had congressional service which, in the clubbable spirit prevailing on Capitol Hill, insured their confirmation with no fuss.

Truman's fourth choice was Tom C. Clark, who had been attorney general at the time of the appointment. With the stamp of Texas politics emblazoned on him, his confirmation took little more than two weeks. In the recently published Plain Speaking, based on taped interviews, Truman described the appointment as the worst mistake he ever made. In view of certain egregious Truman errors, this seems slightly excessive.

By way of contrast, certainly in invitation to trouble, take Franklin Roosevelt's appointment of Prof. Felix Frankfurter. A member of the Harvard law faculty and a confidant of the president, Frankfurter had had no previous judicial experience.

The Frankfurter hearings before the council predicts, it may be a little worse even though slight improvement is expected in some fields. About the only advice we can offer is: Try early, try often, and keep trying.

Senate judiciary committee were as disgraceful as any in recent times, with the ugly stain of anti-Semitism spread across the record. One member of the committee made the unprecedented demand that Frankfurter appear in person to be questioned about his appointment.

This shameful performance was reminiscent of the attack on Louis D. Brandeis when he was appointed by Woodrow Wilson to serve as the first Jew on the court.

And now comes President Ford with an opportunity that could, in view of the election next year, be his sole responsibility for naming one of the nine.

He has the safest of all safe ways out and that is to appoint Sen. Robert P. Griffin of his home state of Michigan. Rising to the post of minority whip, Griffin has had a respectable, if hardly distinguished, career which began in the House of Representatives. His name is on the list of eligibles to be canvassed by the American Bar Association.

Another name on the list is Carla Hills, who has served less than a year as Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Before she spent less than a year as Assistant Attorney General in the Justice Department. As the first woman to serve, her appointment would please women's libbers, foremost among them Mrs. Betty Ford.

In her meteoric rise there has hardly been time to judge her abilities. Those familiar with the judiciary system believe there are at least two other women with judicial experience making them superior to Mrs. Hills as candidates.

Each operator was charged with failing to register with the attorney general's office and with failing to submit financial reports, the attorney general's office said.

"The average player spends $10 to $17 a night at a bingo game," said Atty. Gen. William J. Brown. "This means gross receipts from bingo games are more than $1 billion a year - and that's just the games we know about."

Brown said as many as 2,000 bingo games might be in operation in Ohio. He said similar suits would be filed in Dayton, Canton and Toledo later in the week.

Ohioans approved a constitutional amendment last month permitting charitable bingo, Brown noted, but he added that was "not a green light for promoters to bilk the public in the name of charity."

The suits asked Common Pleas courts in Cuyahoga and Summit counties to require the operators to register and to submit the reports, to distribute one-third of their gross income to charity and to prevent the defendants from disposing of assets until their obligations to charity are met.

Ohio should have a law requiring bingo operators to pay one third of their gross receipts to the charity they claim to represent, Brown said.

He listed the defendants in the present suits as Parents Volunteer Association, Celebrity Room Bingo and Marine Club Inc., all of Cleveland; and Bingo Barn, Bingo World and Kenmore Bingo Hall, all in Akron.

"ANOTHER THING I DETECTED, HENRY, I THINK THEY SERVED INSTANT TEA."

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Don't pry into fiance's past

DEAR ABBY: I'm getting married soon, and my fiance and I discussed our pasts thoroughly. I asked him if he had any kids anywhere, and he said he didn't think so. He admitted that he did go to bed with one girl before he met me. He said he might have gotten her pregnant, but he didn't think he did because he never saw her after that. He said he didn't care and didn't want to know. But I want to know.

I found out her name and address and want to call her up and ask her, but my fiance says she doesn't want me to. I would like your advice.

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: If your fiance had gotten the girl pregnant she would have contacted him, if for no other reason, to help with expenses. The word from here is to forget it.

DEAR ABBY: Dick and I have been married for two years. I'm a little older than he is, and maybe that's why I feel so insecure.

Two weeks ago, I found a letter hidden in his underwear drawer. It was addressed to his office and was from an old girl friend. She wrote that she is being divorced and wants to pick up where she and Dick left off!

I wrote to her and told her that we were happily married and to leave my husband alone. Then I tore up her letter.

She either called Dick at work or wrote him there to tell him about my letter because he came home and raised cane with me for writing her and destroying her letter. I explained that I only did it because I loved him and was trying to save our marriage. That's the God's truth, Abby.

Last night while he was sleeping, I went through his bill fold and found her phone number, so I'm sure he's been calling her.

Should I write to her again or call her or what? This is my third marriage and I want it to last. Dick was a perfect husband until this woman came into his life again. Please help me. My whole world is falling apart.

NOWHERE TO TURN

DEAR NOWHERE: Stay out of your husband's billfold and drawers! And don't call or write the other woman. It will only infuriate him and drive them closer together. If Dick is interested in her, there is nothing you can do. The only hope for a marriage that's falling apart is counseling. If he won't go, go alone.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has a habit of down-grading sincere compliments. If I say, "Gee, Hon, you look nice in that dress," her reply is likely to be, "Do you really think so? It's just a rag my sister gave me."

If I tell her she did a great job cleaning up the house, her response might be, "Well, I guess you haven't seen the kids' room."

I find it hard to understand why she can't accept a compliment without putting herself down. And it hurts me a little. How do you explain it, Abby?

PERPLEXED

DEAR PERPLEXED: Your wife lacks self-confidence and feels somewhat embarrassed to accept praise. Don't be hurt. Most people have difficulty accepting compliments with grace.

Today In History

Today is Friday, Dec. 19, the 353rd day of 1975. There are 12 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1946, the Indochina war broke out as troops under Ho Chi Minh launched widespread attacks against the French.

On this date — In 1675, British colonists defeated Narragansett Indians in Rhode Island in the last battle of King Philip's War.

In 1732, Benjamin Franklin began to publish his "Poor Richard's Almanac" in Philadelphia.

In 1842, the United States recognized the independence of Hawaii.

In 1939, in World War II, the crews of the German liner "Columbus" scuttled the ship in mid-Atlantic to avoid capture by the British.

In 1950, General Dwight Eisenhower was named commander of military forces under the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

In 1968, Socialist Norman Thomas, who ran for President six times, died at the age of 84.

Ten years ago: 28 persons were killed in armed clashes in the Dominican Republic.

Five years ago: Germany's thalidomide trial ended without a formal verdict. But the court said it was convinced the tranquilizing drug had caused countless mothers to bear deformed babies.

One year ago: Nelson Aldrich Rockefeller was sworn in as the 41st Vice President of the United States.

Today's birthdays: Soviet Communist party chief Leonid Brezhnev is 69 years old. British actor Sir Ralph Richardson is 73.

Thought for today: It is a paradox that every dictator has climbed to power on the ladder of free speech — President Herbert Hoover.

Bicentennial footnote: 200 years ago, the New York provincial congress ordered the purchase of five hundred copies of the proceedings of the Continental Congress in Dutch and another five hundred in German, to be distributed free.

A Doubting Thomas Convinced

Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless.

John 20: 27

It so happened that the first time Jesus appeared to the apostles following His resurrection, Thomas was not with them. So it was with great excitement that the ten related to him the miraculous happenings of the day. Thomas was skeptical. "Except I shall see in his hand a print of the nails," he said, "...and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe." His condition was to be met eight days later when the apostles had gathered again - this time Thomas with them - and Jesus appeared in their midst. Bidding Thomas feel his hands and his side, Jesus chided him for his doubts. Thomas felt and, in adoration, cried out, "My Lord and my God."

Presbyterians present four choirs

Scheduled Christmas services in the First Presbyterian Church will be highlighted by the 10:15 worship hour Sunday. During that service, infant baptism will be held, new members will be recognized, and four of the church's five choirs will participate. The Christmas offering, to be dedicated to church workers' retirement income and minority education will also be dedicated.

In the afternoon, worship at the Courthouse Manor Nursing Home will be led by the Chapel, Cherub, and Junior Bell choirs of the congregation.

On Christmas Eve, the annual candlelight service of the church will be held in the sanctuary. At this service, the Chancel Choir will present the cantata, "The Song of Christmas"; by Roy Ringwald. The Bell Choir, Chapel, and Cherub Choirs will also be taking part in the service, which will include scripture readings and a period of meditation.

The highlight of the service will be

Holy Land tours bring concern

Holy Land tours led by clergymen are big business in the travel industry, but concern has risen in the church about some ministers who help promote the trips and make money out of it themselves.

It "commercializes religions," says the Rev. Dr. Ansgar Sovik, a church historian of St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn. He adds that it has become "a scandal" that disturbs many church leaders.

Critics don't object to the tours themselves, and in fact generally favor them as educational experiences, but do question ministers using their influence to recruit travelers, and profiting from it through rebate fees from travel agencies.

"It's the hard-sell that's objectionable, urging people to go, and turning it into a business proposition," Sovik said in a telephone interview. "Some clergymen have made pots of money on it."

"I don't think clergymen should cooperate in this sort of thing."

Nevertheless, hundreds of clergymen across the country, through arrangements with travel organizations, line up group pilgrimages of the faithful, and in many cases, pocket fees of $50 to $100 a head.

However, other ministers, possibly most who lead tours, get their fares and expenses, if that, often strictly limiting themselves to those costs, and this generally is considered justified.

The task involves work, briefing themselves on Biblical backgrounds of sites, and overseeing and instructing the tour groups.

Considering the extra service and comparatively low salaries of ministers, "there's no reason why they shouldn't get their expenses out of it," Sovik said, but if making a profit, "it frankly appeals to cupidity."

CHRISTMAS CANTATA — Members of the First Baptist Church Choir are scheduled to present a cantata in the church sanctuary at 8:00 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 21.

Baptist soloists announced

Soloists for the Christmas Cantata to be presented by the First Baptist Church Choir have been announced by the director, Charles L. Shaffer.

The choir will perform John Peterson's "Night of Miracles" at 8:00 p.m. on Sunday in the church sanctuary. This will be a candlelight service planned to enhance the community's Christmas observance.

The performing soloists are Mrs. Robert Bachelor, Frank Reno, Allen Dunlap and Bryan Connel. Mrs. Jo Retta Brunner and Mrs. Elizabeth Yerian will serve as accompanists, and the cantata will be narrated by Mrs. Ann Baird.

Peterson's Cantatas are written to appeal to all age groups.

First Christian youth choir to present annual program

The Sunlight Chorus, youth choir of the First Christian Church, will present its annual Christmas program at 7 p.m., Sunday Dec. 21, in the church sanctuary.

The program will include sacred carols, secular Christmas songs, recitations and instrumental solos. Assisting in the event as vocalists will be Mrs. Robert Maust, Mrs. Dale Matthews, and Mrs. Charles Moore.

Playing the organ, flute, and cornet will be Miss Elaine Stookey, Miss Jerry Maust, and Miss Denise Matthews. Mark Matthews, Melissa Climer, Leslie Martindill and the Rev. and Mrs. Ray Russell are the cornetists. Chorus members include Kami

Lutheran Church presents services

Candlelight services will be held in the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church at 7:30 p.m., Christmas Eve. Later, at 11 p.m., more services will follow in the sanctuary. Harold R. Shank will present the sermon topic, "The Bright Sign" at both services.

Madison Mills slates two choirs

Junior and senior choirs of the Madison Mills United Methodist Church will present a Christmas cantata at 7 p.m. Sunday evening.

The choir is under the direction of Mrs. Steve Huff. The organist for the program will be Ms. Paul Huff. Mike Miller will narrate the presentation.

Sunday School schedules play

The First Baptist Church Sunday School of Jeffersonville is presenting a play entitled "Why Christmas?" Sunday, Dec. 21. Curtain time is set for 7 p.m. The public is invited.

Anderson, Shannon Evans, Stacy Evans, Susie Evans, Doreen Marks, Kelly Mickle, Whitley Mickle, Loretta Jette, Julie Plumb, Cindy Rose, Debbie Srofe and Denist Taylor. Mrs. Glen Jette is director of the chorus, and Jeff Sheridan is the accompanist.

Candlelight event

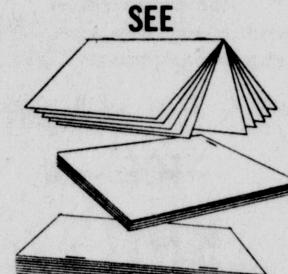

on Christmas Eve

A medley of Christmas music is to be presented in the Sabina United Methodist Department of Music at 11 p.m., Christmas Eve.

The service will consist of singing by the chancel and junior choirs. Also featured in a candlelit atmosphere will be meditations, scripture readings, and various solos.

Director of Music Mrs. Walter Stackhouse plans to have Miss Norma Lee Davis as organist and Mrs. Kenneth Briggs as pianist for the event.

VOWS EXCHANGED — Miss Ellen Schreckengast and Lloyd Gilpen were married Dec. 6 in the Church of Christ in Christian Union with the Rev. Stan Toler officiating. A reception followed in Fellowship Hall. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schreckengast of 930 E. Temple St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gilpin of Campbell St.

Maple Grove Women 'view' Nativity scene

The center of attraction when the Maple Grove United Methodist Women met in the home of Mrs. Harold Craven was the worship table, which held the Nativity scene, with the angels hovering over. The Cross, the Cradle, Christ and the Crown were represented, and lighted candles represented the Christ Child. The open Bible was turned to the Book of Matthew, which told the "Birth of Christ."

Mrs. Craven opened with devotions written by Dr. Billy Graham, and Scripture.

Mrs. Neil Rowland read an article entitled "Prayer" written by a Chinese lady. She also gave a prayer for missionaries with birthdays in December. Mrs. Marion Dawson presented Mrs. Wilbur Chaplin a member pin, in appreciation for ser-

Alpha Theta honor husbands

Alpha Theta Sorority members celebrated the holiday season by having a Christmas husband's party. The group spent a delightful evening by dining at the Lake White Club. Before going to the club for dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Ratliff entertained the group at their home. Appetizers were served to Mr. and Mrs. Mick Barker, Mr. and Mrs. John Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mr. and Mrs. John Gruber, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McIlvaine, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marting, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wood, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zechman.

* * * * *

Members met on Tuesday evening and celebrated with a progressive dinner. The appetizer course was served in the home of Mrs. Tom Rankin, where "Santa Claus" presided at the punch bowl.

The group then traveled to the Richard Wood residence for the main course. The speciality, Fayette County pork chops, were served.

The last stop was made at the home of Mrs. John Bernard, where a dessert course was served. Members also opened their gifts that were exchanged between "secret sisters."

Finals plans for the annual benefit dance to be held Jan. 24 were made. The dance theme will be "Remember When" with disc jockey Joe Kelley.

The evening was enjoyed by Mrs. Bernard, Mrs. Clyde Cramer, Mrs. John Gall, Mrs. Don Gibbs, Mrs. Jerry Hoppes, Mrs. Ray Loudner, Mrs. Charles McIlvaine, Mrs. Jack Merriman, Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Rankin, Mrs. Ron Ratliff, Mrs. Mike Vrettos, Mrs. Fred Zechman, Mrs. Richard Hill, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Ron Warner, Mrs. Jack Moats, Mrs. Bill Marting, Mrs. Chuck Whistler, Mrs. Jim Oughterson, Mrs. Mick Barker and Mrs. John Gruber.

Name omitted

Mrs. Harry Butler was among the officers installed as associate conductress by Royal Chapter No. 29, Order of the Eastern Star, at the 81st Annual Installation held in the Masonic Temple. Her name was inadvertently omitted from the report given to The R.

Zeta Upsilon reveal 'sisters'

Zeta Upsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Dec. 16 at the Terrace Lounge for a Christmas dinner and gift exchange. A brief meeting was held prior to the dinner. Mrs. Don Jones won the candle centerpiece.

After dinner, secret "sisters" were revealed by an exchange of gifts. New names were drawn for next year.

Members present were Mrs. Roger Pemberton, Mrs. Roger Snyder, Mrs. Rick Kelley, Mrs. Randy Anschutz, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Robert Snodgrass, Mrs. Bill Tippett, Mrs. Fred Conley, Mrs. Charles Bowersox, Mrs. Steve Lewis, Mrs. Jim Coldiron, Mrs. Bill Wood, Mrs. Dale Lowe and Mrs. David McKee.

Delta CCL gathers in Duff home

Delta Child Conservation League met Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Dwight Duff for the Christmas party and December meeting. The home was decorated throughout for the Christmas season and visiting was enjoyed around the punch bowl preceding the covered dish dinner.

The welcome and invocation were given by Mrs. Robert Browning and those present were seated at two large tables covered in red with white lace over-skirts, and centered with candles in Christmas arrangements.

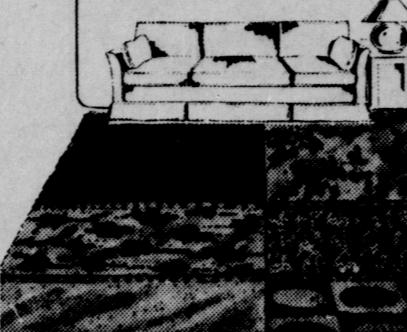

Following the dinner hour, a brief business meeting was conducted by the president Mrs. Tom Mossbarger. Reports were given by Mrs. Robert Taylor and Mrs. Duff.

The social hour featured "Squirrely Bridge" with prizes going to Mrs. Alvin Armintrout, Mrs. Mossbarger and Mrs. Roger Rapp. During the play, soft drinks were served by the hostess assisted by other officers, Mrs. Mossbarger, Mrs. Browning and Mrs. Taylor, who acted as co-hostesses for the evening.

To conclude the evening a "robber" gift exchange was enjoyed by the members. Those present included: Mrs. Alvin Armintrout, Mrs. Glenn Armintrout, Mrs. Malcolm Bloomer, Mrs. Browning, Mrs. Fred Cook, Mrs. John Cook, Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Mrs. Wilbur Fleming, Mrs. John Frost, Mrs. David Gerber, Mrs. Ferol Lewis, Mrs. Mossbarger, Mrs. Roger Rapp, Mrs. Wilbur Rapp, Mrs. Art Schaefer, Mrs. Taylor, and the hostess.

A gift exchange was featured and refreshments served by the hostesses: Mrs. Carrie Lucas, Miss Helen Slavens, Mrs. Mabel Ellis, Miss Lida Grace Wissler, Mrs. Jeanette Weaver, Mrs. Pauline Lewellen, Miss Leona Hewitt, Mrs. Gladys Stitt, Mrs. Blanche Landrum, Mrs. Minia Gidding, Miss Lena Smith, Mrs. Ethel Riber and Mrs. Helen Morrow.

Bogard-Carter marriage vows exchanged in Wesleyan Church

Miss Deborah Bogard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bogard of 816 E. Paint St., became the bride of David M. Carter III of Columbus. The Rev. Robert M. Pratt officiated with the Rev. Dale Chisenhall assisting for the candlelight ceremony in the Wesleyan Church Dec. 5.

Mrs. Dale Chisenhall, vocalist, and Mrs. Irene Smith, organist, presented a selection of wedding music.

The bride wore a gown of white sheer organza and Chantilly lace featuring a V-notched collar, ruffled bib bodice, bishop sleeves and a chapel train. Her elbow-length mantilla with Chantilly lace completed the ensemble. She carried an arrangement of large white mums.

Mrs. Robert Pratt served as maid of honor for her sister. She wore a formal length green gown of double knit with empire waist and lace trim.

Mrs. Jeri Bogard, bridesmatron, and Miss Diane Burge, bridesmaid, wore gowns like the honor attendant except in red. The flower girl, little Jodi Pratt, also wore a red dress. The Bible bearers were Rachel Thompson and Robbie Pratt. Rachel was dressed in green. Holly corsages were worn by the attendants.

The bride's table held a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom figurine. Two round miniature cakes flanked the large cake connected by red and green ribbon. Holly encircled the cakes. A punch bowl and candelabra completed the setting. Miss Mary May presided at the guest book. Rice bags were given to the guests by Miss Patricia Carter.

The new Mrs. Carter is a 1973 graduate of Washington Senior High School, and her husband, a 1970 Pleasantview High School graduate, is employed by Capital City Products, Columbus. The couple is residing at 409 Lewis St.

CB Radio Club attracts many collected for two families for Christmas. He also thanked Hayward Johnson and Brian Davis for donating the American flag to the club.

Mike Baughn was appointed chairman of the C.B. jamboree scheduled for September 12, 1976 at the Fayette County fairgrounds. Don Ruth was appointed chairman of the ways and means committee and will be assisted by John Henson, Hayward Johnson, and Don Murdock.

It was announced that on New Year's Eve at the Clark County Fairgrounds there will be a dance from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. featuring Donnie Bowser and the Stone Hearts. Anyone in the club wishing to go in a caravan to Springfield is asked to contact Mr. Rittenhouse.

After the meeting was adjourned Santa's arrival was welcomed by the children and each child received a box of candy. The remainder of the evening was enjoyed by potluck dinner with Christmas carols playing in the background.

Mrs. Helen Morrow presented Mr. Donald Riber who presented the program he showed slides taken of different scenes and in the background Christmas Carols were played on three different organs from famous theatres.

A gift exchange was featured and refreshments served by the hostesses: Mrs. Carrie Lucas, Miss Helen Slavens, Mrs. Mabel Ellis, Miss Lida Grace Wissler, Mrs. Jeanette Weaver, Mrs. Pauline Lewellen, Miss Leona Hewitt, Mrs. Gladys Stitt, Mrs. Blanche Landrum, Mrs. Minia Gidding, Miss Lena Smith, Mrs. Ethel Riber and Mrs. Helen Morrow.

TRUMBLE ARM CHAIR Circa 1745-1755

Unquestionably of Philadelphia origin, this chair summarizes the finest American detailing in the Queen Ann Style. Francis Trumble for whom the chair is named, was a noted Philadelphia cabinetmaker from about 1734 until 1798, and is known to have made furniture for Independence Hall. This piece is from the Station Bicentennial collection, which consists of a series of superb antique reproductions in solid cherry. Adair's is one of the few stores in Ohio privileged to show and sell pieces from this collection.

Tax freeze proposal explained

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes wants to stop unvoiced increases in property taxes that have occurred recently as inflation hits the homeowner. Here's how his proposal would theoretically work:

Ohio's Constitution mandates countywide reappraisals of all real estate property every six years. The on-going program runs in cycles. The last started in 1972, and will conclude at the end of 1977.

The assessment rates of 35 per cent of taxable value, set following the June 1971 Ohio Supreme Court's highly publicized Park Investment decision, will remain.

However, under present state regulations, county auditors update property values annually based on inflation, causing higher valuations which in turn produce higher tax bills.

It is the annual updates at which Rhodes aims his proposal. Under his plan, these would be nullified.

Assessment rates would be fixed at their Jan. 1, 1975, levels on tax bills sent between now and Dec. 13, 1977.

Under the existing system, a taxpayer with a home worth $100,000 on Jan. 1, 1975, would have it assessed for tax purposes at $35,000 using the uniform rate. He then would figure his tax by calculating the local millage rate. If the rate were 30 mills, his bill would be $1,050.

The next year under the current system, his house would have an actual value of $110,000 because of inflation. His assessment rate would be $110,000, hiking the assessed value to $38,500. With a 30-mill levy, the bill would be $1,155.

However, under the governor's proposal, the value for tax purposes would remain at $35,000 and the tax bill at $1,050.

State tax administrators explained Wednesday that the plan does nothing to prohibit increases approved by voters locally and the freeze itself would benefit about a third of the state's 88 counties at the outset. Even they face increases, although not as large as they would be without the governor's plan.

Charles S. Lopeman, chairman of the Board of Tax Appeals, also conceded that the plan—while meeting Ohio Constitutional requirements—could run afoul of equal taxation provisions of the U.S. Constitution.

He said the trouble comes from the fact that two-thirds of the counties, which have undergone constitutionally required sexennial reappraisals since 1972, had to pay inflation-triggered increases while the remaining counties would not.

One-third of the counties yet to have their sexennial reappraisals would have their property values brought up to Jan. 1, 1975 rather than having them show inflation to the time the reappraisal was finished.

Counties which haven't had their sexennial reappraisals in the current cycle, and are scheduled to have them in 1976 and 1977, are:

Belmont, Brown, Crawford, Cuyahoga, Erie, Fayette, Highland, Huron, Jefferson, Lake, Lorain, Lucas, Morgan, Muskingum, Ottawa, Portage, Stark, Warren, and Williams (all 1976), and Carroll, Champaign, Clark, Fairfield, Logan, Marion, Medina, Miami, Ross, Union, and Wyandot.

Speakman re-elected to ASC committee

George Speakman, 3003 Miami Trace Road, a Jasper Township farmer, was elected to another three-year term to the Fayette County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The election was held on December 15 at the ASC office, 1503 Columbus Ave., with the elected community committeemen from the five communities voting.

Clyde Bower, a Concord Township farmer, was elected chairman of the county committee. Otties Smith of Concord Township was elected vice-chairman, and Speakman as member of the county committee.

Fred Cook, Paint Township, and Wayne Baird, Wayne Township, were elected as first and second alternates to the county committee.

The county committee is charged with administering the federal farm programs in the county, such as grain loans, grain facility and dryer loans, wool program and the agricultural conservation programs also acting as liaison between Fayette County and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Ohio jobless benefits even

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Continuing unemployment benefits in Ohio were near last year's level at this time while new claims were about half of the number for December 1974, the Bureau of Employment Services said Thursday.

For the week ended Dec. 13, 21,917 persons filed first-time claims with the bureau for state and federal assistance. That compares to 27,214 for the week before and 42,125 for an average week in December 1974.

Initial recipients had increased for three consecutive weeks before this week's reversal.

Claims for one week or more for the week ended Dec. 6 were near last year's level at this time.

For that week, 141,345 received continuing benefits compared to 134,107 the week before, an increase for the second consecutive week. Last year in December, 149,210 persons received benefits in an average week.

Trustees approve college center

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Toledo University trustees have conditionally approved a proposal to build an adult and continuing education center as part of a downtown complex.

Board members split 5-4 on the proposal and required that within 30 days firm financing be arranged for nonuniversity parts of the center.

$249.95

Charming dining room furniture with better quality than you expect to find at so low a price. All pieces are solid wood construction, along with beautiful crafted details make these pieces an exceptional value! You'll know that when you sit down to eat at the table, the chairs are solid and somewhat grained. This is PINE the way you like it, darkly aglow with the lustrous look of hand-crafting, carefully sanded and finished. The chairs have the worn-smooth look of a family heirloom. All tables have "party proof" matching Formica tops. Choose the table you want and create a room that will be a favorite gathering place from break fast to midnight snack.

Dear Santa Claus,

I want to give you this letter, because I love you so much. I live on Sherman St., and I want a play stove, sink, refrigerator, dishes, a candle that lights, baby doll and bottle, buggy and clothes. A doll for Melissa and a squeak toy for Ty. There will be cookies and milk for you under the tree. I am five years old.

I love you Santa.
Kelli Wilson

Sabina

P.S. Don't forget to leave presents in Texas, Mommy. Daddy, Meema and Peepa Kelly, the boys, Meema Wilson and everyone else who's been good. Also, my sister.

Dear Santa,

I am almost three years old. And my mommy is writing this for me. I have been very good and I help my mommy by picking up all my toys and eating all my meals.

I would like for Christmas some tools, to help my daddy, a guitar and a drum, a bubble gum machine, a putt-putt railroad and a digger dog. I will be a real good boy so please may I have them?

Also I am leaving you and your reindeers a treat on the dining room table, hope you like it.

Thank you Santa Claus very much.
Your buddy

Dear Santa Claus,

My name is Tessa Dee Ann and I have been good this year. I want a baby doll, and a bottle, baby buggy, dishes, house slippers, clothes, and many more. I am two years old and will be three years old Christmas. There will be cookies and milk for you under the Christmas tree.

Love,
Tessa Wilson
79 Sherman St.

Dear Santa,

My name is Jackie and I am three years old. I have been pretty good boy. For Christmas I would like to have Evel Knievel, Cowboy suit, gun and holster, Close N Play and anything else you want to bring me. I will leave you and your reindeers something to eat. Remember all my cousins and other children in the world.

Lots of love

Dear Santa,

I am only four years old so my mommy is writing this for me. I have been a very good boy this year. I also help mommy take care of my baby brother Joey. For Christmas I would like a rifle and shotgun set (toy ones), fire truck, police car, G.I. Joe. Please bring something for Joey too.

Chad Haynie
402 E. Paint St.
P.S. Please bring daddy something cause he works hard all year.

Dear Santa,

My name is T.J. Little and my brother's name is Jamie Brown. I am four and a half years old and Jamie is two. We have been pretty good this summer, so will you be nice and bring us some toys, and bring mommy and daddy some things too. Thank you Santa.

T.J. and Jamie
1224 Nelson Place
P.S. I hope you don't forget our cousin, Kenny, who is in Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Dear Santa,

I love you. We've got our Christmas tree up and will you come and see it? For Christmas I want a grader, dump truck, and a tractor. Please bring my daddy a saw. I've been a good boy sort of ornery. And Santa if you come see me this year I promise I won't suck my thumb any more. I am 5 years old so my sister is writing this for me.

Love ya,
Andy Fitzpatrick
Jasper-Coil Rd.

Dear Sant,

Our names are Jimmie and Donnie Anderson. Mommy is going to write this for us. We are trying to be good little boys. Santa please bring Jimmy age seven a toy guitar, a truck, and janes to. And bring Donnie a truck, a car, a big red ball too. Please bring Mommy a new dress in size 10 and Daddy a new coat size 38. We love you.

Love always.
Jimmie and Donnie Anderson

Dear Santa,

I've been very good this year. I would like a cake set, snoopy drive-in, Betsy, drums, games, shinky dink, and I would like to know how your wife is and how are you. I will some cookies under the tree.

I love you.
Michele East
766 High St.

P.S. Send my brothers and sister my love in Tennessee.

Dear Santa,

I want a walkie talkie and I want a set of nine cars.

Woods re-elected chairman of expositions commission

Donald P. Woods, a Fayette County real estate broker and developer, was re-elected chairman of the Ohio Expositions Commission during the annual reorganization meeting held Thursday.

Woods, 133 W. Circle Ave., was appointed to the Ohio Expositions Commission (state fair board) Dec. 1, 1972 by former Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan.

The 40-year-old Woods, a Democrat, has completed three years of his six-year term on the expositions commission.

Woods, who maintains his real estate office at 200 E. Market Street, is a former president and director of the Fayette County Bank.

A native of Louisa, Ky., and a graduate of Washington High School, Woods became the youngest bank president in Ohio at the age of 29 when he was elected to head the Fayette County Bank in 1965.

He also served two terms as chairman of the Fayette County Memorial Hospital board of trustees.

Other officers re-elected were J. Ronald Castell, of Columbus, director of marketing for WBNS radio and television, as vice chairman, and Roger May, a Pickaway County farmer, as secretary.

DONALD P. WOODS

Moynihan defends stand in U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — "If it is threatening behavior to come into the U.N. with facts, with arguments, with carefully prepared ideas, to that extent we were threatening and to that extent we would propose to go on being so."

So said Ambassador Daniel Patrick

Moynihan, the United States representative in the world body, when asked about criticism that he was too outspoken.

He said he considered his actions "careful, lawyerlike and perhaps on occasion a trifle too intellectual."

Elmer Peters, 37, of 530 Third St., woodworker, and Helen E. Sharp, 23, of 530 Maple St., at home.

JUVENILE COURT

Jim Yahn, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yahn, 737 Washington Ave., was found delinquent after he admitted having possessed marijuana.

Although the Fayette County prosecuting attorney's office had originally sought to have Yahn tried as an adult, the request was withdrawn. Age 17 at the time of his arrest, Yahn was charged with possession of marijuana, two counts of possession for sale, and sale of the drug.

The charges were dropped or reduced, and Yahn finally pleaded guilty to two counts of simple possession.

Judge Rollo M. Marchant first ordered that he be remanded to the Ohio Youth Commission Maximum Security Institution in Columbus, but then suspended the commitment. Since Yahn had already served time in jail which is not now even possible for a adult offender, the youth was placed on probation with Marshall Boggs.

Yahn was one of more than 30 Fayette County residents charged with illegal drug trafficking by a special Fayette County grand jury in June.

JUVENILE TRAFFIC

Kenneth E. Osborne, 18, son of Mrs. Louise Morton, 819 Lakeview Ave., lost his license for 30 days for reckless operation. He was 17 at the time he was cited.

Mark a Hurles, 17, Jeffersonville, was remanded to his brother after he was found to have operated a motorcycle without a valid motorcycle license. The discipline imposed by the brother with whom he resides was approved by the court.

DIVORCE ACTION FILED

Dick Underwood, Box 99, Washington C.H., has filed in Common Pleas Court for divorce from Mary L. Underwood, 429 Fifth St., on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties have an adult child who is the only issue of their union.

FORECLOSURE SOUGHT

The advance Mortgage Corp. Detroit, Mich., is seeking foreclosure action in Common Pleas Court against Richard W. Stern, 706 W. Market St. According to the petition, the defendant owes $13,876 on a promissory note executed Jan. 3, 1975. The defendant's

DIVORCE GRANTED

Carol M. Merritt, 825 Campbell St., has been awarded a divorce in Common Pleas Court from Howard Merritt, Maitland, Fla., on grounds of neglect of duty. The parties have no children the issue of their marriage, and the plaintiff was restored to her former name of Carol M. Osborne.

CIVIL SUIT DISMISSED

The civil suit filed in Common Pleas Court Raymond G. Rittenhouse, 1392 Ohio 41-S, against his neighbor Rocklyn T. Goodebiddle, 1414 Ohio 41-S, has been settled by the parties and dismissed. The petition sought relief from drainage problems allegedly created by the defendant's actions on his own property. The parties reached agreement on how the two properties should drain surface water, and the suit was dismissed without prejudice.

Senate panel may publicize covert operations report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House intelligence committee is considering publication of a report that would outline three secret U.S. operations in foreign countries, including what sources say is a CIA effort to influence national elections in Italy.

The proposal to publish the report was to be put to a committee vote today.

The proposed report, in addition to detailing CIA efforts in Italy, also would outline covert U.S. aid to Angolan forces and the supplying several years ago of weapons to Kurdish rebels in Iraq.

Administration officials have attempted to persuade the committee to keep the reports on the Italian elections secret.

Sources said Thursday the CIA action in Italy involved efforts to prevent Communist gains in an Italian election. One of the sources said it was a recent election but not the last general election.

The last general election in which Italians selected a new parliament was held in May 1972. The most recent Italian balloting was a hard-fought nationwide election of regional legislatures in which the Communists ran less than 600,000 votes behind the Christian Democrats.

Demo hopefuls woo New Hampshire voters

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — A slew of Democratic presidential candidates is wooing New Hampshire voters with as much zest as ever. But their aim is not so much to win as to keep from falling out of the pack.

While Ronald Reagan hopes to launch a decisive challenge against President Ford in New Hampshire's Republican primary next February, the crowded Democratic field — six candidates so far — is expected, according to party professionals, to end in a stalemate.

The official filing for the Feb. 24 election began Dec. 11, but the candidates have been campaigning for some time, two of them for more than a year.

"Nobody on the Democratic side is at this point likely to finish with such a substantial margin for it to be in any way remarkable around the rest of the country," said Laurence Radway, state party chairman.

The significance of New Hampshire's first-in-the-nation primary is that it could set a pattern for other states, said Radway, a political science professor at Dartmouth.

But so far none of the six contenders has emerged clearly above the others. Nor have any attracted any broad segment of the party, though Arizona Rep. Morris K. Udall has been campaigning since the summer of 1974 and former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter since last December.

In addition to Udall and Carter, the field consists of former Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma, who has waged a neopopulist campaign; Sen. Birch Bayh of Indiana, who has garnered the support of most organized labor; Sargent Shriver, the 1972 vice-presidential candidate and Kennedy in-law; and former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford.

Efforts also have been under way for a write-in campaign for Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who in Gallup polls has been the favorite among rank-and-file Democrats nationwide. He has said he is not a candidate. Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington also reportedly is considering a late New Hampshire bid.

Unlike 1972 when Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was the clear favorite, this time there are no Goliaths on whom a David — as Eugene McCarthy in 1968 and George McGovern four years later — can take labor's support and has been unofficially endorsed by most of the state's labor leaders.

He also has signed on a key member of Sen. John A. Durkin's successful U.S. Senate campaign last September. His is Don Madden who was Durkin's media strategist.

Carter has waged a long, steady personal campaign and is said to have gained considerable strength in recent months, though his campaign's over-all organization is believed not nearly as extensive as Udall's. The former Georgia governor has been in the state 14 times since last December.

Harris has waged an extensive underground campaign and only recently opened a campaign office. Laurie Kinan, his state campaign manager, said she expects Harris to finish in the top three and is banking on a wide coalition ranging from high school pupils to Eugene Daniell, the 74-year-old liberal mayor of Franklin.

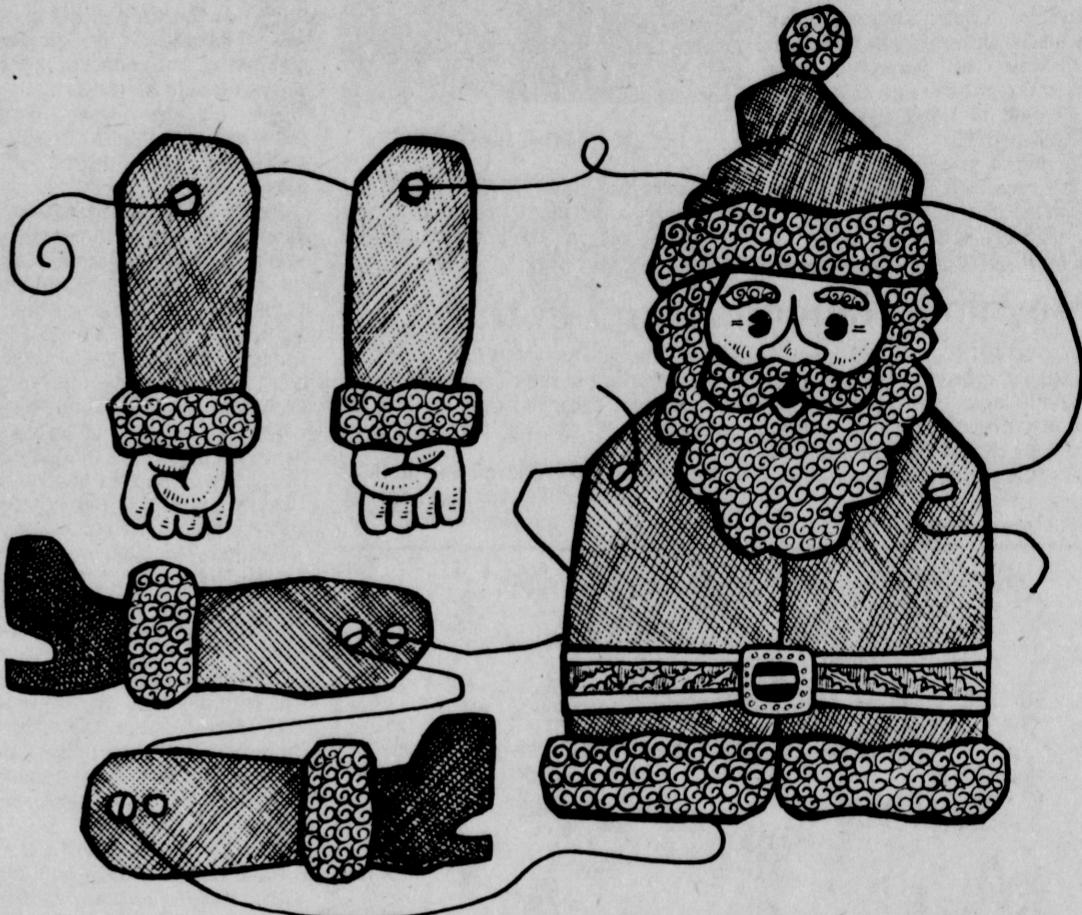

Shriver may be among the best recognized candidates among the field because of his 1972 candidacy and because his wife is Eunice Kennedy, sister of the late president. But so far his organizational effort is considerably behind that of at least four of the other contenders.

Sanford has made a number of trips into New Hampshire, but like Shriver has lagged behind in the grass-roots organizational efforts. He is expected to open a state campaign office within the next few weeks.

POW's Yule gift: Vietnamese orphan

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — After being a prisoner of war for nearly six years, Ed Mechenbier's Vietnam legacy is not one of bitterness but a Vietnamese orphan he calls his Christmas bundle of joy.

Mahli, now 9 months old, arrived in the United States in April aboard the American "babylift" just before the fall of Saigon. Mechenbier, who lives in the country near Springfield, Ohio, says the child makes it the best Christmas for him and his wife, Jerri, since he was released from captivity in February 1973. Up until 1973, the couple had been separated for seven Christmases.

"She's a bundle of joy in our life," says the 33-year-old Mechenbier. "It's a lot of fun shopping for baby toys. We had been trying to adopt a baby since 1966 when I was in England. Before I was shot down over North Vietnam I was looking into it. Shortly after I got home, we started again."

"My wife borrowed the name Mahli from a friend, somebody she met years ago. I don't know its origin."

The couple, who knew each other from high school days in Dayton, west of Springfield, has no other children. They have been married 11½ years but together half that time.

"We have two marriages," says Mechenbier. "Our first marriage and our second marriage, rather than

USDA can't sell Lebanon property

WASHINGTON (AP) — The civil war in Lebanon has dashed the Agriculture Department's hopes to sell its holdings in a Middle East investment firm which includes ownership of a Beirut gambling casino where belly dancers used to perform.

The USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation became an inadvertent shareholder in Intra Investment Co., when its predecessor went bankrupt in 1966. As partial settlement of an export credit deal, the department wound up with 6.5 per cent of the stock in the company.

Department officials say that they are not sure what has happened to the Casino du Liban, reported to be among the world's largest gambling establishments. The department has been trying to sell its shares in Intra Investment Co. for more than 18 months and early this fall was on the verge of concluding a deal with the government of Lebanon. About $10.2 million remained in the aborted 1966 debt, and officials had hoped the sale would cover most of it.

But before an agreement could be reached in September, fighting broke out between Christian and Moslem factions and major portions of Beirut have been devastated. The USDA's agricultural attaché and other U.S.

officials were evacuated in mid-September.

Fred T. Plybon, controller of the department's Commodity Credit Corporation, said that Lebanon had indicated "a very sincere desire" to buy the Intra stocks but that no further communications have been received for three months.

Further, Plybon said, no one in the department seems to know if the casino is still a viable asset or whether it has even survived the Beirut fighting.

The department's holding in Intra Investment Co. also includes part ownership of Middle East Airlines and a shipyard in France. The governments of Kuwait, Qatar and Lebanon are the major stockholders of Intra, which was formed to handle assets of Intra Bank of Beirut after it folded nine years ago.

Cagney surprises stricken youth

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — Actor James Cagney, known for his tough guy roles in movies, brightened the day of a teen-ager who has terminal brain cancer.

Keith Mitchell, 14, used to do impressions of movie stars — Cagney was his favorite — until he was stricken 16 months ago. He is now semi-comatose and unable to speak, communicating only with nods.

Cagney's agent called Keith's hospital room unexpectedly Thursday and told Keith's mother, Helen, that the actor wished to talk to her son. The agent said Cagney had been briefed on the boy's condition and knew the boy could not respond vocally.

"When I handed Keith the phone he became alert," Mrs. Mitchell said. "His eyes opened up and he nodded his head. After it was over, I thanked Mr. Cagney and he told me that it was his pleasure and to give Keith a big hug. That's when I became overwhelmed with emotion."

Clay Carroll's pay to top $100,000

CINCINNATI (AP) — Clay "The Hawk" Carroll won't be swooping in for any more late-inning "kills" with the Cincinnati Reds.

The highest paid pitcher on the Reds staff approved Thursday a trade which sends him to the Chicago White Sox of the American League.

The veteran righthand reliever agreed to a one-year pact which reportedly calls for a salary in excess of $100,000-a-year.

Carroll, 34, was holding out for a multi-year contract. His attorney Jerry Kapstein said the White Sox "made such a good offer for one year that I had to recommend that my client accept it."

Carroll established himself as one of baseball's most durable and consistent relievers during his eight seasons with the Reds. His earned run average has dipped over 2.60 only once in the past six years.

He was 7-5 for the world champions this year, with an ERA of 2.63. The Clanton, Ala., native appeared in 48 games with Cincinnati to break Joe Nuxhall's club record.

Carroll's best season was 1974 when he was 12-5 with a 2.14 ERA. In 1972 he set a National League record with 37 saves.

He has had contractual difficulties in recent years and threatened to become the first Reds player to seek arbitration. He was eased out of his No. 1 bullpen role this year by the development of youngster Will McEnaney and Rawly Eastwick.

The Reds acquired relief pitcher Rich Hinton and minor league catcher Jeff Sovern in exchange for Carroll.

Finley hires Chuck Tanner

CHICAGO (AP) — Owner Charles O. Finley of the Oakland A's says he intends to "vex Veeck and out-Veeck Veeck."

Finley began Thursday by hiring his 11th manager for the A's — Chuck Tanner, who only the day before had been axed gently as manager of the Chicago White Sox by Bill Veeck, longtime baseball impresario and new owner of the team.

Tanner had managed the Sox for the past five seasons, and with three years remaining on his $60,000 per year contract, it wasn't coincidental that his contract with Finley also is for three years.

"I feel outstandingly exotic, or whatever the word is," said Tanner. "Both men (Finley and Veeck) are paying me but I'm working for Charlie. This is really something."

Finley, who reportedly voted against Veeck's purchase of the White Sox at last week's winter baseball meetings, refused to disclose contract details.

"I won't say how much I'm going to pay him, but if I give him $10,000 a year, Bill Veeck will have to pay him the other $50,000," Finley said.

The intra-county matchup between Miami Trace and Washington C.H. highlights tonight's full slate of South Central Ohio League cage action.

Both Fayette County squads are coming off Tuesday night losses and will be trying to get back on the winning trail when they meet on the Panther's home court.

Other league games have Wilmington at Unioto, Hillsboro visiting Circleville and Greenfield entertaining Madison Plains.

WASH. C.H. AT MIAMI TRACE

It will be the 31st matchup between the two Fayette County squads Friday night at Miami Trace.

Both teams were pegged as South Central Ohio League contenders before the season started, and each squad needs a victory to stay close to the SCOL leaders, Circleville.

The Blue Lions are coming off a disappointing loss to Wilmington earlier in the week which saw the Court House five's perfect record marred.

It was the second game in a row that coach Gary Shaffer's team failed to score above 50 points, but with talented scorers like Chuck Byrd, Doug Phillips, and John Denen, three in a row will be improbable.

The Miami Trace cage team can put points on the board, too. The Panthers were leading the league in scoring with a 75-point per game average before Tuesday's 67-50, loss to Circleville. When their fastbreak offense gets in gear, few teams are able to keep pace.

Panther coach John Woolums indicated that he may shake up his starting lineup for the contest after a rather poor showing against Circleville three days ago. His leading scorer and rebounder, Alan Conner, should get a starting call. He was one of the few bright spots in the Panthers' last game scoring 20 points and pulling seven rebounds from his forward position.

The contest tonight promises to be a high-scoring affair, and if Miami Trace can hold their own on the boards against the Blue Lion, it will be a matter of which team is holding the hot shooting hand.

HILLSBORO AT CIRCLEVILLE

Circleville is sitting atop the SCOL standings with a perfect 4-0 mark, and Hillsboro doesn't seem to be the likely candidate to change that situation.

The Indians are talented — especially underneath — but Circleville is out of their class.

Led by guard Mike McCoy, forward Biff Bumgarner and center George Moore, the Tigers should chalk the Hillsboro game up in the win column.

If Hillsboro can get the ball down the court against the Tiger press, frontliners Rick Seeling and Tim Fuller can put it in the hoop. However, the Indians don't have the backcourt men capable of getting the job done.

The Tigers' fastbreak should take its toll and put a comfortable margin between them and the Indians before the fourth quarter begins.

WILMINGTON AT UNIOTO

A majority of the teams in the SCOL have used Unioto as a doormat this season. And, the only reason the other league teams haven't, is because they haven't planned the undermanned Shermans, yet.

Wilmington will get the first of its two chances, tonight.

The Huryn' Hurricane have turned in two impressive back-to-back performances — a three-point loss to Circleville and an upset win over Washington C.H.

It should be another impressive performance for Wilmington, even-though the Tanks are tired of seeing impressive performances.

MADISON PLAINS AT GREENFIELD

This contest should rank right up there with the Washington C.H.-Miami Trace game as the close one of the evening when the Golden Eagles visit McClain High School.

Both teams have identical league records (2-2), but one will drop below .500 after the matchup.

It could be rated as a tossup, but give Greenfield a slight edge because of the home-court advantage.

Griffin, Tarkenton win sports honors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Both Ohio State All-American Archie Griffin and Minnesota Vikings' quarterback Francis Tarkenton have different outlooks on what it takes for a small guy to succeed in the large-guy world of football.

Griffin and Tarkenton spoke Thursday after being selected the top football players of 1975 by the Maxwell Club — Griffin among college players and Tarkenton among the pros.

Both were questioned via telephone hookup about their battles against bigger guys to attain stardom. Griffin is just 5-foot-9 and 182 pounds, while Tarkenton stands 6 feet and weighs 190. They're comparatively small against the competition they face.

"It's not the size of the dog in the fight, but the size of the fight in the dog," said Griffin, who gained more than 5,100 yards and is the all-time career NCAA rushing leader.

"You work with what you've got to work with," said Tarkenton. "The biggest adjustment is to realize you'll be shot at from all sides."

Despite their heavy-duty jobs, Griffin carried an average of 20 times a game, and Tarkenton is always under that big pass rush, neither has ever missed a game because of injury.

"That's due to fear and luck," Tarkenton said.

"I've been lucky to get to the sideline before they get me," the Vikings' passer added. "I've been fortunate not to get hurt in 15 years. I'm knocking on wood right now."

Griffin said he has no doubts that he'll make it as a running back in the National Football League. He's counting upon his quickness and his great competitive attitude to overcome any lack of physical stature.

"I've been told I was too small before," said Griffin who gained 100 yards or more in 31 consecutive games for Ohio State. In 11 games last season, he gained 1,357 yards on 245 carries, 5.5 per carry and 123.4 per game.

Griffin said the "small back" rap has been on since his day as a Little League player. He still cherishes what he calls "The Maryland A.C. Award." It was for just making a team of boys older than him, and bigger.

"I had the same challenge at Ohio State and accepted it," noted Griffin, who recently was honored with his second Heisman Trophy as the year's outstanding player.

Griffin was asked if he felt that he had played in a football factory at Ohio State.

"I feel like I got a quality education," he began. "I don't feel like I'm in a factory. I'm on a football team that I chose because it has a winning tradition and was a challenge. Our education is as good as anybody's."

Someone asked Griffin if he felt that the Maxwell Club was right in including good character and scholarship in its award rules.

"I don't think that's a bad idea looking at the total person," Griffin replied. "Football, like life, is a growing up process. You have to learn to lose as well as to win."

Tarkenton said he was honored with the Maxwell's Bert Bell award — in memory of the NFL's late commissioner Bert Bell — but "I am not egomaniac enough to think I'm the best player in the NFL. It's very difficult to pick that man."

Tarkenton's name goes down on the trophy along with such NFL past and present greats as Merlin Olsen, O.J. Simpson, Larry Brown, Roger Staubach, George Blanda, Roman Gabriel, John Unitas, Norm Van Brocklin, Paul Hornung and Jim Brown. Griffin joins a list of college winners including John Cappelletti, Ed Marinaro, Jim

Steeler-L.A. game Super Bowl preview?NFL teams set for showdown tilts

By HAL BOCK

AP Sports Writer

For those professional football fans who can't wait until next month, the National Football League will stage a little peek this weekend at what could be the Super Bowl.

With little more than pride at stake, the Pittsburgh Steelers play the Los Angeles Rams Saturday night in a game matching division champions. The same two teams could wind up facing each other again Jan. 18 in the Orange Bowl when the championship of Pete Rozelle's 26-team world will be on the line.

The Pittsburgh-Los Angeles pairing is one of three Saturday games kicking off the final weekend of the NFL's regular season. In the others, Denver plays at Miami with the Dolphins needing a victory to keep their playoff hopes alive, and Buffalo entertains Minnesota, which may have something to say about the NFC side of the field in the Super Bowl.

Sunday's action, New England plays at Baltimore, St. Louis is at Detroit, Kansas City visits Oakland, Dallas plays the Jets at New York, San Diego is at Cincinnati, Cleveland at Houston, Philadelphia at Washington, Atlanta at Green Bay, the New York Giants at San Francisco and Chicago at New Orleans.

Pittsburgh, the defending Super Bowl champion, has won 11 consecutive games in clinching the American Conference Central Division crown.

Los Angeles is working on a more modest streak of five straight victories. The Rams have allowed only two touchdowns in that stretch and LA has permitted only 132 points all year, the lowest total in the NFL.

The game matches two bullish runners, Franco Harris of the Steelers and LA's Lawrence McCutcheon.

Harris enjoyed his fifth 100-yard game last week and his 1,120 yards for the season is only 21 short of John Henry Johnson's club record. McCutcheon is fourth among NFC rushers with 911 yards and needs 89 more for a third straight 1,000-yard season.

Of course, 100-yard games and 1,000-yard seasons are old hat to Buffalo's O.J. Simpson. He has clinched another rushing crown with 1,760 yards but needs 243 more yards against Minnesota to match his single season record of 2,003 set in 1973. That might be out of reach for most runners, but O.J. has gained over 200 yards four times and he's not like most runners.

Simpson's 8,066 career yards are fourth on the all-time list.

Meanwhile, Minnesota's Chuck Foreman and Fran Tarkenton are shooting for individual honors. Foreman is after an NFC triple crown. He leads in scoring with 108 points on 18 touchdowns and in receiving with 63 catches for 804 yards. But he's second in rushing with 985 yards, trailing Jim Otis of St. Louis, who has 1,007. Tarkenton needs two touchdown passes to break Johnny Unitas' NFL career record of 290.

Miami must win and then hope that either Baltimore or Cincinnati loses Sunday.

Gophers upset Marquette, 77-73

By KEN RAPPORPORT
AP Sports Writer

After watching Bo Ellis on television for so long, Mike Thompson said he was "anxious" about meeting the Marquette star in a basketball game.

It didn't take him long to lose his nervousness, though.

"After the first time I blocked one of his shots, I figured I could take care of myself," said Minnesota's big man.

Thompson later blocked two more of Ellis' shots and made some of his own while leading the Gophers to an upset 77-73 victory over the third-ranked Warriors in overtime Thursday night.

"I don't think I'll schedule Minnesota again until Thompson graduates," joked Marquette Coach Al McGuire after watching Thompson's spectacular 29-point, 16-rebound performance.

Then he added, quite seriously: "He's a throughbred. He beat us."

Minnesota Coach Jim Dutcher was even more generous in his praise.

"Thompson proved he's definitely one of the super talents in the country," he said. "He had the best of their people in this game. He controlled the inside offensively and defensively."

In other games, No. 6 UCLA whipped Missouri 83-71; No. 12 Washington stopped Seattle Pacific 93-72; DePaul outscored Northwestern 65-57; Memphis State whipped Wichita State 75-68; Toledo turned back Eastern Montana 80-69; Louisiana Tech trimmed Baylor 76-66 and Nevada-Reno crushed Southwestern Louisiana 116-80.

Middle School splits games

The Washington Middle School cagers split a pair of basketball contests this week.

Monday, both the seventh and eighth grade squads hosted Wilmington and the visiting Junior Hurricanes came away the victors.

The Eighth graders fell, 39-35, to knock them from the unbeaten ranks and the seventh graders lost, 48-38.

Tom Shields paced Washington C.H. in the Eighth grade game with 10-points and seventh-grader Brian Dodds tossed in 15 counters in the opening contest.

Wednesday, both teams came out on the winning side against Unioto. The Eighth graders got a 12-point performance from Clark Lee and John Belles added 11 points to power the Court House five to a 42-36 victory.

The seventh grade game was no contest as the Washington C.H. squad led by Dodds' 17 points and a stiff defense stopped the Junior Shermans, 46-9. Unioto managed only two points in the first half.

Cincy chief, 6 officers indicted

CINCINNATI (AP) — Lt. Col. Myron Leistler took over as acting chief of police today as shock waves reverberated through City Hall following the indictments of Police Chief Carl Goodin and six policemen.

Leistler, who had been chief of the department's internal investigations section, was named Thursday night by Safety Director Richard Castellini as "a straight shooter who can rally the morale of the department."

Goodin vowed to fight the nine counts returned against him by a special

Hamilton County grand jury that could mean up to 10 years in jail, fines of more than $10,000 if convicted.

Goodin scheduled a 1 p.m. news conference today.

Newly-elected Mayor Bobbie Sterne urged the public to remember the officers are considered innocent until proved guilty. But the city's first elected woman mayor said she was "appalled."

Goodin, and the other officers, were suspended immediately by City Manager William Donaldson.

"I was horrified that this should happen in this department considering the good record it has," Donaldson said.

Goodin, who said he was "shocked," had denied any wrongdoing.

Goodin, 41, is a 19-year veteran of the force and has been police chief since 1971.

Goodin is charged with bribery, extortion, perjury, soliciting for compensation, tampering with evidence and obstructing justice.

Other officers indicted were: Vice Squad head Lt. Richard Beyer, perjury, obstructing justice, bribery, soliciting for compensation and tampering with evidence; specialist James Simon, tampering with evidence, perjury, procuring, obstructing justice and theft; specialist Roger C. Hummendorf, bribery; and Patrolmen Raymond Easterling, William Hawthorne and Urban Ebert, were charged with tampering with evidence, obstructing justice, bribery and soliciting.

Other individuals, were also named. All will be arraigned Tuesday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court.

The others were Flora Flynt, also known as Flora Griffith, sodomy; Larry Flynt, magazine and bar owner, bribery and sodomy; and David Simon, brother of the officer, theft, procuring and obstructing justice. Flynt is editor and publisher of "Hustler Magazine" headquartered in Columbus.

Clarence Mims, foreman of the jury, indicated the grand jury would continue the probe. He told Hamilton County Common Pleas Court Judge William S. Mathews that the indictments were a "partial report."

"I am really shocked over the incidents against the chief," said Fraternal Order of Police President Specialist Elmer Dunaway. "I will be even more surprised if some other policemen are not indicted. I helped start the original investigation against two of them."

The probe began in October with an unsigned letter from nine policemen to public officials and the news media.

The letter charged Goodin with procuring bribes through the vice squad and using on-duty personnel to work on his private property. Goodin denied the charges.

The letter also charged favoritism to bar owners in two districts, mismanagement of slush funds in those same districts, bribery, extortion and other crimes including a prostitution party.

Traffic Court

A Fayette County man was found guilty of failing to return his driver's license and registration when demanded to do so by the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles on Dec. 10.

The man, Orville E. Hawkins, 61, of 2254 Snowhill Rd., was fined $200 and court costs by Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge Reed M. Winegardner during Thursday's court proceedings and sentenced to serve 10 days in jail. Judge Winegardner stated the jail time would be suspended if Hawkins surrendered his license plates and registration to the Fayette County Department within 48 hours.

Judge Winegardner also accepted the bonding bond forfeitures:

Albert F. Randolph, 83, of 416½ East St., $25, failure to yield right of way.

Doris Y. Aills, 27, of 427 Earl Ave., $25, failure to yield right of way.

Mervin Crago, 46, Frankfort, $18, failure to obey a traffic sign.

incorporation articles filed to enable Wilson to realize income tax advantages which are not available to an individually owned business.

The attorney added that almost all large businesses are being incorporated because of the tax advantages. Only a few types of companies, including some real estate agencies, can realize tax breaks while operating under partnership agreements.

Driver charged after accident

A Good Hope man was charged with driving while intoxicated and failure to drive on the right half of the roadway by Fayette County sheriff's deputies following an accident at 6:40 a.m. Friday.

Deputies reported Maynard G. Ward, 39, traveled off the left side of Ohio 753, two-tenths of a mile south of Miami Trace Road and overturned in the ditch after striking a mailbox and newspaper tube belonging to Forest H.

Rural blaze extinguished

A fire broke out at the Mark Taylor residence, 818 Staunton-Jasper Road, at 7:55 p.m. Thursday.

Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported Taylor placed a candle under a water pump in an attempt to thaw it out and left. The burning candle ignited insulation around the pump. Kim Wilson, who was home at the time babysitting with her younger brothers, Gregg and Tim, detected the smoke and notified the Concord-Green Township Fire Department. The firefighters responded and subdued the blaze. Deputies did not report extent of damage.

Cleveland was the first city to light its streets by electricity.

Two area residents have been sentenced for breaking and entering Jasper Elementary School in Millerville.

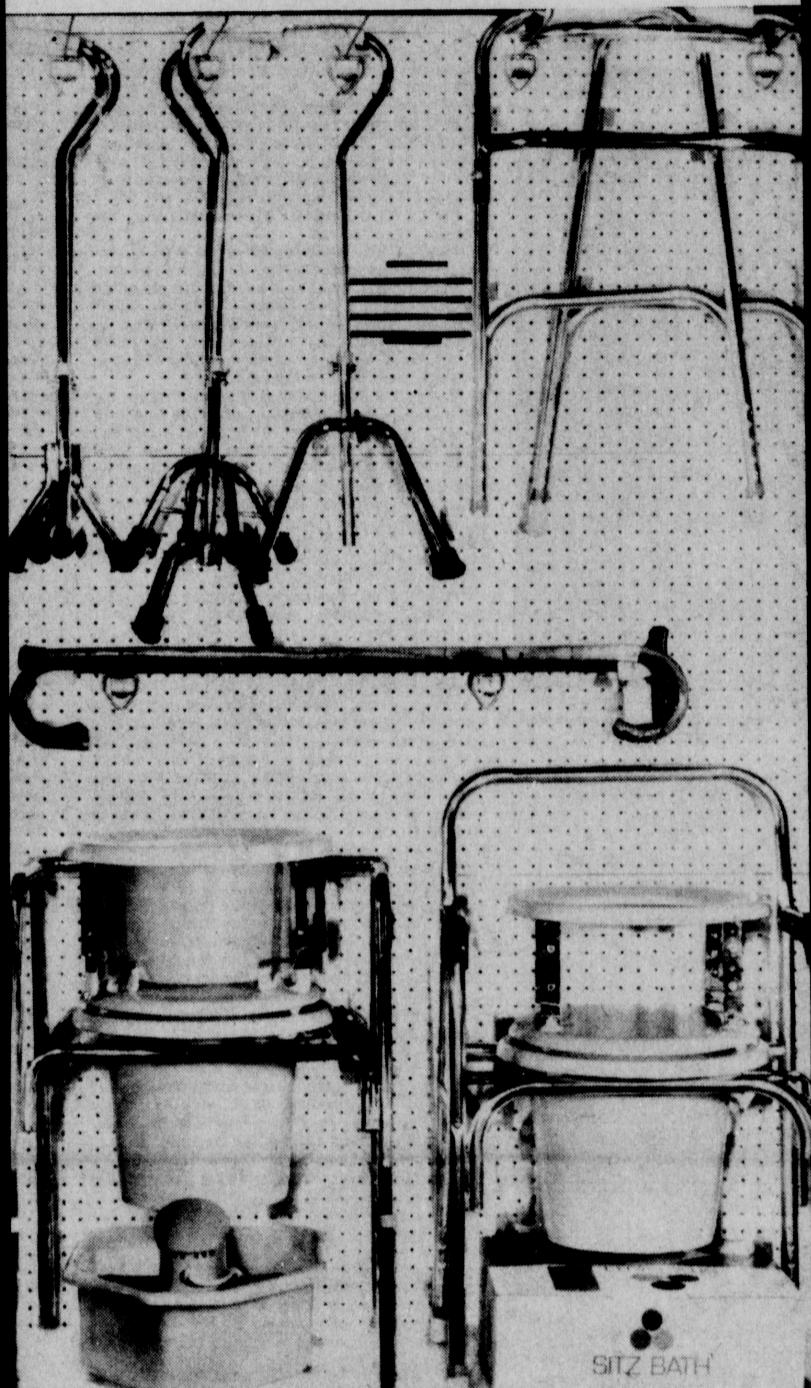

Jerry N. Davis, 27, Octa, and Richard W. Ratliff, 18, Sabina, pleaded guilty in Common Pleas Court to charges of breaking and entering. Both were represented by attorney Walter A. Seifried, who requested that pre-sentence investigations be conducted.

Davis, who has an adult criminal record, was sentenced to a prison term of six months to five years in the Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield.

Ratliff, who does not have an adult record, received the same sentence, but his was suspended. He was placed on probation for three years.
